

Field Studies in Environmental History

Module Name	Field Studies in Environmental History
Identification code	FS-EH enrollment for exam: 74800
Subtitle
Courses embedded	Field Trip : (10 days) Seminar : Preparation Seminar (1 day block)
Term	Summer term (annually) Travel date: Pfingstwoche (Pentecost week)
Coordinator	Prof. Dr. Ingmar Unkel
Teachers	Prof. Dr. Ingmar Unkel
Tuition language	English
Programme involvement	Elective MSc Environmental Management
Teaching form, contact time per week class size	Max. 16 participants Registration always in the preceding winter term no later than November 30 th through email to junkel@ecology.uni-kiel.de (necessary for booking flights and/or accomodation)
Workload overall Contact time	Preparation seminar 7,5h/22,5h Field trip 8 full days with 8h field work = 64h/157,5h 2 days travelling from/to the area Field report
Kreditpunkte (=ECTS)	6
Preconditions prescribed
Prerequisites recommended
Learning outcomes	understanding of climate-landscape-human interaction past and modern landscape development
Content	Field trip to Greece or Switzerland Greece – Peloponnesus Switzerland – Engadin/Silvretta Topics to be covered: <ol style="list-style-type: none"> 1. history of several sites to be visited 2. changes in land use and land cover 3. environment – development and protection 4. vegetation and geology 5. climate history and future 6. archaeology
Assessment	Seminarbeitrag (SB) = Oral presentation and written field report
Teaching media
Literature	Depending on the selected region to be visited, suggestions for articles and monographs will be provided through the online teaching platform OLAT
Contact	Prof. Ingmar Unkel, junkel@ecology.uni-kiel.de , -5241
Remarks	